DECISIONS COURT OF APPEALS OF KENTUCKY.

Reported expressly for the Yeoman by Charles F. CRADDOCK. Attorney-at-Law, Frankfort, Ky. Parsons Appeal from Campbell Circuit Court.

Parsons. Appear from tampbel Circuit Court.

This was an action brought by the appellant for the recovery of personal property, in which he claimed an education of the Court, as is required by the 208th section of the Court, as is required by the 208th section of the Court, as is required by the 208th section of the Court, as is required by the 208th section of the Code of Practice. And having executed the appropriate bond, the possession of the property was delivered to him by the Sheriff.

His right to the property was controverted by the defendants, and upon a trial of that issue between the parties, the jury found a verdict in the following words, viz. "We of the jury find for the defendants." Therepon the court rendered a judgment "that the plaintiff restore to the defendants the property in the pleadings mentioned, and in case the plaintiff does not, and canmb return said property to the defendants, it is adjudged that the detendants recover of the plaintiff the sum of ninety dollars." From that fadgment the plaintiff the same of ninety dollars." The Journal of yesterday was read and approv-

it by the plaintiff himself, in his affidavit and petition.

The 369th section of the Civil Code provides that "in actions for the recovery of specific personal property, the jury must assess the value of the property as also the damages for the taking or detention, whenever, by their verdict, there will be a judgment for the recovery or return of the property.

Now, as in this case, a judgment for the return of the property necessarily followed a verdict for the defendants, the jury should have assessed the value of the property, and the court had no right to assess its value, either by reference to the proof upon the trial or the plaintiff's affidavit. The omission by the jury to assess the value of the property makes their verdict fatally defective, and the judgment rendered thereon is therefore erroneous. wherefore the judgment is reversed, and cause Wherefore the judgment is reversed, and cause remanded for a new trial and further proceedings remanded for a pew trial and further proceedings.

Pror. O. J. Wood & Co.: Gents.—The letter I wrote you in 1855, concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous inquiries touching the facts in the case. The inquiries are, first, is it a fact of my habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all therein contained; third, does my hair still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and do answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for forty years past, more soft, thrifty and better colored; the same is true of my whiskers, and the only cause why it is not generally true, is that the substance is washed off by frequent ablution of the face, when if care were used by wiping the face in close connection with the whisters, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still ontinues to be good; as there is so much fraud in he manufacture and sale of various compounds as vell as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good effect, but o absolute injury. THESE Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical—but politics forms only one feature of their character. As organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

The receipt of Advance Sheets from the British publishers give additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original

N. B.—The price in Great Britain of the five Periodicals above named is $31 per annum. As we have for many years been paying more than $3.000 annually to the British Publishers for the matter furnished in these Periodicals, thus virtually becoming copartners with them in the profits of the Reprints, we trust the public will consider this in bestowing their patronage, and give us the preference over Eclectic and over patchwork publications, whether monthly, or weekly, which now extract so liberally from our works and pay nothing either to the Foreign Publishers or to us for the same. As year for the four leading British Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine, and by taking these works entire, subscribers are not obliged to be guided by others in the choice of the articles they may desire to read. Moreover, taking into consideration the style in which our Reprints are published and their acknowledged fidelity to the original editions, and also the advantage of an early issue by means of the advance Sheets—our series will be found as cheap as any of the competing publications to which we have alluded.

The Cheapest, most Brilliant, an most Convenient Artificial Light in the World! THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety, and simplicity far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas flame and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixture is so simple that it is not lable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burned in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light. The light has been pronounced by those who have had it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, there tengn of dicker or unsteadiness in the flame. The V-sper Gas Light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tastes, from the plain single-light burner to the most costly chandelier. Each chandelier is perfect in itself; there is no outlay to be made for service intest. The gas is generated in the burner, and all THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputa in itself: there is no outlay to be made for serv
